A Curious Peke The most curious Peke at the show was owned and shown by Mrs. Arthur L. Holland, an enthusiastic fancier of the breed. The little dog weighed only two and a half pounds, and in age was a week short of six months. He answered to the name of Wee Wee, and as far as size went he could easily rate as a vest pocket dog. Wee Wee was so small that the judge thought he was too "wee" to be shown, and he gave Mrs. Holland the gate. Nevertheless Mrs. Holland paid $400 for this diminu-
